6.0- Keen to go ahead? Our Process & What to Expect

Initial visit

- Organise a day and time to visit us for a chat and to have a look at a completed campervan. You can have a tour around the workshop and any mid-conversion campervans if you like. We will then go through our campervan specifications, options, cost and what makes us better than the others before discussing your own campervan requirements.

- If you are keen to go ahead, you can then choose your base van spec (model, colour etc) and look at available build slots .

- We will send you a quote with the agreed details before taking a deposit to secure the booking and build slot.

Second visit

- Once we have confirmed your build slot and taken your deposit, you can then arrange to re-visit (or do on the same day if preferred) to spend time looking through our samples and pictures of previous conversions whilst completing your conversion order form- of which your campervan will be built from!

Build spec confirmation

- We send your completed order form to you via email and give you a few days to confirm it.

Build preparation

- We order your new van and have all of your chosen materials ordered and stocked ready for your van arrival and build slot.

Your campervan build

- Your campervan build begins on your commencement date, built off of your order form in your chosen finishes and spec. Your campervan build is completed no later than your completion date.

Build Completion

- Your brand new campervan is complete, fully tested, undergoes a habitation check and road test before being signed off and fully valeted ready for hand-over.

Collection

- We contact you to let you know your campervan is ready for collection and organise a collection time. (If using our finance we send completion pictures to the finance company who will commence their payout procedure which can take up to 1 week, after which we will arrange collection)

- On your collection day we will give you a tour and demonstration of your new campervan so you know how everything operates. We then take your final payment (unless finance), give you your document pack including our laminated user guide, and then hand over the keys to your very own, brand new campervan!
